Mattia Novello returns to Milan with a personal exhibition at the AMY D Arte Spazio gallery. Curated by Sabino Maria Frassà, the exhibition is sponsored by CRAMUM. In TUTTO TORNA - IT MAKES SENSE, the artist, born in Vicenza in 1985, presents a new series of completely original works specially designed for the environment that welcomes them.

The Milan gallery has always been promoter of museum-level exhibitions in which the artworks reflect the uniqueness of the exhibition and are never merely "inserted" into the space. In the three main rooms, works like Space Telepathy (2017), I Love You (2017), and Athomico (2017) characterize every corner of the space. Works and space are combined into a plastic-sculptural scanning of an "augmented" reality made by the artist. Articulated into several segmented or alternated elements, folding, distortions, overlaps and modulations identify some original tangible manifestations of otherwise inaudible forces, latent and ready to declare their physical worth. The concreteness of the basic materials acts as a transfer whose minimal tension opens up to a revolution of the place in which they "act". The expressive language is thus based on an intrinsically installative essence that makes the work new, other and different, depending on its presenting itself to our perception in time and place.

As Sabino Maria Frassà writes in his critical essay, "In all his works Mattia Novello attempts to capture the essence of reality, coming to the conclusion that time is circular, that the present, the past and the future coexist in a single eternal present, and that the infinitely small is also the infinitely large."

Hours of work on the matter are at the centre of the creative and artistic process of Mattia Novello, who has always explored the intrinsic qualities of all the materials he has been using, in order to solicit all those otherwise unexpressed physical-expressive potentials.

Heir of the "Arte Povera" in his use of materials and in his tactile, and not just conceptual, relationship with the objects, Mattia Novello creates sculptures that are alive in their use of the space and in their ability to capture energy even through a playful feedback.

His works originate from the engineering-poetic manipulation of selected next-generation materials transformed into utopian installations.

The result is an exhibition that can only capture and give us all a renewed energy, vitality and a different approach to the reality surrounding us.

The encounter between the artist and the planning nature of the Milanese gallery AMY D Arte Spazio – engaged since the beginning in the smart materials testing – gave birth to several projects and collaborations, including Falling Up (2013), The transparent dream (2014), Innovative ricerche (2014), Memorie di equilibrio (2015), Equilibrio - Festival della Scienza di Genova, Premio Cairo (2015), Premio Michetti (2016), LIDuP with the Politecnico di Milano (2017).
