

EconomART of Amy d Arte Spazio Milano presents “Strani Estranei Estratti Stranianti”, a solo show by the artist Marco De Santi.

The Milanese research gallery is opening the new 2019 exhibition season with “Strani Estranei Estratti Stranianti”.

The works of the series - outcasts - and recent sculptural installations will be presented with unpublished works; works born of a new experimentation with bioplastics. Smart Materials from the Geological Institute were donated to the artist by the gallery.

Strani Estranei by Marco De Santi is an economART project by Amy d Arte Spazio.

Double reading of his work and very strong titles in creative passage are becoming ephemeral constructions, delicate, displacing the strongly evocative ones in the becoming of the Other. This is precisely what we are talking about: The Other ... the foundation.

The critical review by Francesca Balena Arista, explanatory and enlightening, speaks of forces, implosions, collapses and transformations - entropy at 0 km - which our eye, now alienated, almost does not perceive.

Marco De Santi gives form to uncertain accumulations of poor (mediocre) things as if he were composing flowers in a precious Japanese ikebana. [,,,,,,,,] His works have the gift of making us reflect on contemporary issues without making too much noise: they never explode, maybe one day they could implode, collapsing silently, and then the echo of their vibration would propagate far, far, far away...
